I'll always remember the first time I tried ballet (芭蕾) when I was only six years old. My mother was a dancer and I wanted nothing more than to be like her, but after making mistakes during my first class, I felt like I wanted to give up right away. As it was only my first day, however, I told my mom I couldn't wait to dance again.

Weeks passed and my dancing didn't get any better. Then my dance teacher announced (宣布) that we were going to perform in a show. Even though I practiced hard for the show, I never quite got the hang of it. Finally, I went to my mom to tell her how I felt. She told me she would teach me all she knew about ballet.

My mom quickly discovered how bad at ballet I was, but she still taught me with the greatest patience, love and understanding. By the time the show arrived, I was as prepared as I could be.

The music began and my heart started to race. Breathing calmly (平静地), I began moving to the music without missing a step. When the music stopped, I ran off the stage (舞台) and laughed in excitement.

My mom found me and gave me a huge hug, telling me how proud she was. I looked my mom in the eye and told her that there was no way this could have happened without her. Through this, I realized one important fact: My mom will always be there to catch me if I fall.

Twenty years has passed, I am an excellent ballet dancer now. Thinking back to that period of time, I'm really thankful to my mom.

根据短文内容判断正误。(注意：考生将答题卡相应位置涂黑。正确的涂“A”，错误的涂“B”)

26. The writer's mother was a ballet dancer, so she didn't want to be somebody like her.
27. After several weeks, the writer made little progress in her dancing.
28. The writer went to her mom to tell her how she felt, but her mother didn't teach her something about ballet.
29. She became an excellent ballet dancer at the age of twenty and she thanked her mom.
30. From the passage, we know that mom's love is always there to catch us if we fall and gives us warmth all the time.

C

Once upon a time in China, there was a company called Xiaomi. They made smartphones and many other cool gadgets (电子装置). One day, Xiaomi decided to do something big and different. They created their very first electric car, called the SU7, and started selling it to people. The boss of Xiaomi, a man named Lei Jun, told everyone that this new car would cost 215,900 yuan (almost $30,000), undercutting Tesla's Model 3, which begins at 245,900 yuan. It was a big event, and people were very excited. In just 27 minutes, more than 50,000 people ordered the new car.

Now, Xiaomi isn't the only company making electric cars. There are other big names like Tesla and BYD. Tesla is a car made in America, and it's known for being fast and modern. But Xiaomi's car, the SU7, can go really far—at least 700 kilometers on one charge (充电)! That's more than the Tesla Model 3, which can only go 567 kilometers. At the same time, Xiaomi is thinking about how their customers use their phones and computers. They made the SU7's brain (operating system 操作系统) work like the ones in Xiaomi's phones and laptops (台式电脑). This way, people can get everything connected and easy to use.

Xiaomi has big dreams for their electric car business, but no one knows yet whether they will succeed. Some analysts (分析师) think that Xiaomi's big idea will help make electric cars better and more exciting for everyone. So, what do you think? Will Xiaomi's SU7 develop faster than Tesla and become the king of electric cars? Only time will tell, but one thing is for sure: the world of electric cars just got a lot more interesting.

31. What kind of products did Xiaomi use to make?

- A. Electric cars.                      B. Home robots.                      C. Smartphones.

32. The underline word "undercutting" probably means "_____".

- A. Selling at a higher price              B. Selling at a lower price              C. Copy the design

33. What's the main focus of the second paragraph?

A. It compares the SU7 and Tesla Model 3 in range (续航里程) and smart features.

B. It introduces Xiaomi's history as a smartphone company.

C. It explains why BYD is better than Tesla.

34. Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?

A. The Tesla Model 3 has a longer driving range than the Xiaomi SU 7.

B. Over 50,000 people ordered the SU 7 in less than 30 minutes.

C. The Xiaomi SU 7's operating system is designed to work differently from Xiaomi's smartphones and laptops.

35. What's the best title for this passage?

A. Tesla's New Operating System.

B. Electric Cars Make Our Life Easier.

C. Xiaomi Challenges Tesla with its SU7.

D

Being lazy is the most usual thing in the world. It has become the biggest enemy (敌人) in front of us and "giving up" usually happens to us. 36 The following ways are very useful.

37 Remember, laziness is powerful. That's because you are used to the way that things are going, and even if you want to change, it's difficult. So don't try to conquer (克服) the world in the beginning. Just conquer some small things which you can achieve. As the saying goes, "Well begun is half done."

Take action (行动) at once. Then you will make progress little by little. Please remember "38"

Be confident (信心) and keep doing it no matter what happens. You'll meet difficulties and fall down. Just get up and keep going. 39 It doesn't matter, just keep going. Learn from your mistakes and keep going. Then you can beat laziness and get successful.

In fact, being lazy is not terrible. 40 Keep your own promises and get started at once!

根据语篇内容，从下面所给的选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项，使短文语意连贯。选项中有一项为多余项。

A. Actions speak louder than words.

B. You'll make mistakes and get disappointed (失望的).

C. So what should we do to beat laziness?

D. Set a goal that you can get to.

E. You'll feel excited when you meet difficulties.

F. Follow the advice above and try some.

When you sit down with your family to eat a meal, have you ever wondered when and where people used chopsticks for the first time? Today, let me introduce.

It's said that the first chopsticks were used in China 5,000 years ago. Since then, chopsticks have even widely used in many countries in Asia, such as China, Japan and Korea. Chopsticks are made of different kinds of materials. The materials like bamboo and wood are common because they are easy to get. People also use bones for chopsticks. Even many valuable materials like silver can be used to make chopsticks. There are also many table manners (礼仪) connected with chopsticks. For instance, never stick (插入) your chopsticks straight in your rice bowl. People believe this is impolite to the host.

How to Make Myself Better

It's my great honor to give a speech here. My name is Tom, a student from Class 1, Grade 7. Today I'd like to share my ideas on how to make myself better.

First, I keep working hard and never give up when facing difficulties in my study. At the same time, I take short breaks to relax and stay focused. Second, I try to communicate with my classmates actively and help them if they need support. In this way, we build better relationships. Finally, I live a healthy life by doing exercise and having enough sleep every day.

I believe these habits can help me become a better person. Let's take action together. Thank you!
